Give the Band a Lift
The Norway-Paris Band has completed a formal organization with by-laws and regulations binding its members together as a musical corporation.
To increase its efficiency as a musical organization the members have arranged for Frank P. Knapp of Gray to locate in Norway and give instruction in the higher branches. The organization is striving to become one of the best in this part of Maine and will pay his proportionate part of the cost if necessary. They are out to do something for themselves and anxious to keep Norway and South Paris on the musical map. The band made a good impression at Oxford County Fair the last two seasons and during the outdoor concerts the past summer. The Twin Towns should feel proud to possess this talent and gladly assist in maintaining the organization.
Their outside income is limited to a few voluntary contributions and a number of engagements for "pay." This is barely sufficient for up-keep. Uniforms, music, additional instruments or replacement, call for money. If advancement along modern lines is to come, a little financial assistance would not go amiss. The Board of Trade in each town would do a real public service if some definite action was taken to join the band with a substantial contribution.
The evening concerts last summer were enjoyed not only by the townspeople, but a great many motored long distances to attend. Summer visitors expressed surprise that the two communities possessed the best music published at so low cost. A good band is a big part of Community life and should receive not only the moral support, but a financial boost.

Baseball Players Coming Into Line
Manager White announced Bob Perry and "Chick" Hayes as sure for the Twin Town baseball team. Several other players not yet signed are practically sure. Good pitchers will not be hard to find as Manager White has on file fourteen applications for change to join the outfit. The chances to secure Walter Reed for the initial sack appear to be slipping. Billy is sure of Wm. Kneeland, the catcher; Jimmy Robinson at short; John Merriam at third; "Lefty" Back in the box. Beside the pair first mentioned, "Pip" Kennedy, the sturdy second baseman of last year, is a favorable prospect. Manager White has a regulation first baseman in view and expects to make a landing.

The local power station is now producing practically all the electric juice used in the two towns. Modern equipment and high water has made it possible.
Elizabeth Conary and Wilfred Conary, Jr., passed the school vacation with their aunt, Mrs. L. W. Dow, at Portland.
Thelma Tracy is leading in the highest five string race at Pearson's Bowling Alley where a race is on foot every Sunday. The contest will be decided by the grand total of pins at the end of the fifth week. Several contestants are in the race and running close.
Bert Hosmer has a book 211 years old. It was written in London, England in 1712. It is a copy of the "Solihbury Ballads" by Dr. Walter Pope. The book came from the attic of the George Austin house on Main Street.

Mrs. Edith Packard Hebbard
Mrs. Edith Packard Hebbard, wife of Samuel B. Hebbard of Lynn, Mass., formerly of Norway, passed away Sunday evening, March 30, at Trumbull Hospital, Brookline, Mass.
Mrs. Hebbard had been in poor health for the past two years, but with great will power and courage, hoped to regain her health. With her cheerful disposition always looking on the bright side of life her nearest friends didn't realize her condition. Upon the advice of her physician she was taken to a surgical operation March 26, which proved more serious than they expected and from which she could not rally. Everything that medical aid could do was tried, but her strength failed rapidly until the end.
Mrs. Hebbard was born in Auburn, March 30, 1842, daughter of Charles E. and Evelyn G. Packard, Dec. 24, 1890 she married Samuel B. Hebbard of Norway, where they lived for a year or two, later going to Lynn, Mass., where they have resided for several years. Mrs. Hebbard was a life member of the "Dugan Club," The Mass.-Maine Daughters, and the Norway Ladies Club. She was also a member of the Penneesseewassee White Club composed of former Norway ladies. She always enjoyed meeting with these old friends and several of them attended the funeral held in Lynn, Wednesday, Apr. 2. The large amount of beautiful floral offerings showed the high esteem in which she was held.
She leaves beside her husband, S. B. Hebbard, one son, Carl P. Hebbard of Swampscott, Mass., one sister, Mrs. E. E. Andrews of Watertown, Mass., one brother Arthur L. Packard of Swampscott and several nephews and nieces.
Interment at Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn, Mass.

Merchants' Association Meeting
The Norway Merchants' Association held its annual meeting recently and elected officers as follows:
Pres.—Eugene L. Sweet
1st Vice Pres.—Edith A. Fuller
2nd Vice Pres.—L. Merchant
3rd Vice Pres.—James N. Tabbs
Sec.—Oliver J. Foss
A vote was passed to keep the stores open on Patriots Day being a Saturday. Tentative plans for a banquet and an out of town speaker were laid. Suggestions were received relative to the annual "Gollar Day."
Boy Draft of Portland demonstrated the Rediffa Super Rediffa eight tube machine on Thursday evening, at the A. L. Clark Drug Co. This model has beautiful lamps and an external cooling system, and is a real revolution. The machine is so designed that the heat is carried off by the water in its tank of some 2000 mts. In Portland it is not so crowded and the city in an automobile and delivered a concert on parade.
Kenneth C. Gurney went to his camp at East Stoughton, Saturday, and spent a few days with his sister, Mrs. Clarence H. Downing, since his return from Florida. He will be at Brown's camp, Lovell, this summer.
"Perry Cross" based on Pike Hill. Maybe it is because Ed Cummings is soon to move from there.
William Huff of Lewiston spent the week end with his son, Charles, and family of Beal Street.

Norway Village Corporation Meeting
The annual meeting of Norway Village Corporation at Norway Opera House, Tuesday evening was largely attended. Articles relative to sprinkling the streets and to keeping the night police were the only items in the twenty-seven articles to start anything like an argument.
Henry E. Frost was chosen moderator. The Corporation officers as nominated in the caucus Friday evening were elected on one ballot without opposition, as follows:
Assessors—Geo. P. Hathaway, Howard Moulton, H. W. Luck.
Treasurer and Tax Collector—Robert F. Bickford.
Engineers—Glenn F. Frost, H. P. Furd, Harry Gentry, B. B. Bicknell, William Walker, F. A. Hall, Charles Murphy, Edward Anderson.
Voted to have all poll taxes due and payable May 1 and all other taxes due Nov. 1.
Voted to charge interest on all delinquent taxes commencing January 1, 1925, at rate of 1 per cent per month from Nov. 1.
Corporation will purchase bonds required of the treasurer and collector. The sum of $450 was raised for interest charges, and $1,000 voted for the retirement of a note due July 1 on the Eliza street sewer account.
The treasurer was authorized with the approval of the assessors to borrow in anticipation of the revenue, giving notes payable within one year from date.
Article to raise $300 to be expended at the discretion of the assessors for public service on the streets was passed over. Many voters considered this a substitute for the regular patrolman service in force. The plan was opposed by Eugene N. Sweet, president of the Norway Merchants' Association on the grounds that protection would hardly be worth mentioning.
In the article which followed, bearing more directly on the question, Mr. Sweet again expressed the sentiment of the Merchants' Association. With the merchants and business men paying seventy per cent of the corporation taxes and large contributors to every movement for the up-building of the Community, believed it fair the citizens grant them a guardian of property. This was not a selfish desire for it was a benefit to the whole corporation, he said. The motion to raise $1,180 was carried without opposition.
Substituting Calcium Chloride for water to lay the dust created an exchange of ideas. Geo. F. Hathaway, one of the assessors, presented data from the manufacturers of the chemical and from the state highway office. The reasonable cost of calcium chloride is about 10 cents per ton. The cost of the material together with its successful application in other towns might permit treating all the streets, where under the present arrangement but a few are favored with the sprinkler. Opinions varied, and feeling was expressed that $1,000 as called for in the article was too much money for an experiment. The amount was cut to $400 and this sum will be used during the summer to give the chemical a fair trial.
A vote was passed to sprinkle the streets, localities to be selected by a committee of three appointed by the moderator. Amount raised was $1,500, the Corporation and abutters going 50-50 as in past years.
The assessors were instructed to install a light on Cottage St., between Addison St. and Forest Hill, also a light on Summer St., near the residence of Mr. Carrie Philbrook. Another light was authorized on Grove Street in front of the residences of George LaFrance and Harry V. Cole. Installing a light on the corner of Alpine and Tucker street was left to the judgment of the assessors.
Voted to close the fiscal year December 31 instead of March 31 as at the present time. Voted to change the by-laws so the annual meeting may be held the first Tuesday of March in each year.
The sum of $2,000 was raised for fire department expenses and $250 for paint and repairs at the school. Voted to raise $5,000 to pay outstanding notes given by the treasurer in previous years in anticipation of taxes, and $4,000 for the usual Corporation expenses.
Appropriations:
Interest charges ..... $ 450.00
Elm Street sewer notes ..... 1,000.00
Police services ..... 1,180.00
Calcium chloride ..... 4,000.00
Sprinkling streets ..... 2,000.00
Fire department ..... 2,000.00
Fire station repairs ..... 5,000.00
Outstanding notes ..... 4,000.00
General expenses ..... 15,780.00

Legion's Drive for Bonds Sale
Wm. Henry Stone Post American Legion has launched a drive to secure $10,500 which will complete their home on Main street, now under construction. Coupon bonds have been issued in $100 and $50 denominations, running 20 years, interest payable semi-annually at 5 1/2 per cent. The Norway National Bank is named trustee, holding property under mortgage. A budget system will allow $355.00 for a sinking fund each year not including anticipated revenue from various sources after the building is completed.
About $2,500 has been subscribed and the Legion boys are canvassing to put the whole thing on its feet. Dr. H. B. Business men are coming forward and the boys are confident of success.
Sargent S. Coleman, contractor and builder of Center Lovell, was in town, Saturday.
Bert Clark has a cozy corner at the A. L. Clark Drug Co., where chess fans meet and play the waiting game. J. C. Bowers of Frost Hill is one of the regulars. Bert Clark on his own ground. Dr. H. B. Bradbury is another fan to gather around the board as time permits.
If water cost the users 20 cents per cu. ft. less would be used in cleaning the streets of ice and dirt. Sure thing!
We want to do your printing. Will do it as you want it and the price will be fair. Remember we print tax receipts. J. Freeman Bolster went to the C. M. G. Hospital last Sunday. He is suffering with carbuncles on the chin and kidney trouble. Last reports were that he is doing well as could be expected.
A. Bradbury surprise party was given Vernal Packard, April 8, at the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Levey Cox.

American Legion Minstrels
The public will again be given opportunity to greet the Henry Stone Post, American Legion Minstrels at the fourth annual show to be presented at Norway Opera House, April 24 and 25.
This year the show has been arranged to offer the greatest variety possible and send the program over with snap. Four strong vaudeville acts will be followed by a grand full stage assembly featuring brilliancy in setting, strong male chorus, pleasing soloists and the best collection of end men ever introduced on the local stage. A large orchestra will be one of the strong attractions during each evening and well worth listening in on.
Of course comedy will be the key note, and those gentlemen with black faces and white shirt fronts will see to it no patron leaves the theatre with dyspeptic countenance. The gloom chasers are "Chet" Gates, "Jake" Andrews, Ned Burnell, and Billy White (the ball player). Don't forget the Henry Stone Post, American Legion Minstrels will act as interlocutor and is thoroughly competent to preside during the session.
A carnival dance will close the fun feast on the last evening. Noise makers, favors and the usual nick-nacks will be given away without stint.
Seats are to be checked at the box office beginning at 7 o'clock the evening of April 21. Numbered checks will be issued to all in line at 4 o'clock or after, seats to be picked in this order if the holders are in place when the sale opens.
The Legion boys are after a large sum for their new home now in the process of construction. Every ticket purchased is a boost and the act will be sincerely appreciated. Without any question Norway Opera House will be crowded to the doors.

Amateur Night at Rex Theatre
Despite the storm on Monday evening, Rex Theatre held a capacity crowd for the first appearance of local vaudeville artists in the "Norway Frolics of 1924." Manager William DeCroceau staged his program after the fashion of amateurs brought together a bunch of amateurs acts which would do credit to a more pretentious theatre.
Five dollars in gold was offered the act winning the greatest applause. The winners, Maurice Prince, Harold Moore, and H. Walter Brown, had no easy job to decide the question, for every act was favorably received. The choice after long deliberation fell to Clark and Loring of Oxford in a sketch, "Bits of Vaudeville." The happy pair featured dancing, talking, singing and instrumental work.
Others to appear were Norway performers as follows: Eleanor Barlett, young miss rendering the song "When Grandma Was a Girl" in appropriate costume; Frederick M. Davis, black face humorist with the "fiddle"; Ernest Clouston, vocalist with the selection "Dear Little Boy of Mine"; Leo Dubois, hand juggler and acrobat; Edith and Edwin Joslin, harmony vocalists; Four rose buds, Zilpha Bicknell, June Smith, Ruth Holt and Helen Kenyon, eccentric comedienne.
The show made a pronounced hit, and another opportunity to "Puff" will undoubtedly be given at no late date.

Birthday Party
On Thursday, April 3, Herbert Crocker celebrated his 9th birthday with the following guests: Achille Perry, Lucy Kimball, Pauline, Frances, Louise, Blue, Margaret Crocker, Nolan Jackson, Wesley Brown, O'Neil Brown, George Smith, Carlton Richardson, Robert Coffin, Gordon Coffin and Harold Crocker. A large birthday cake with nine candles, fancy cookies, ice cream, candy and peanuts were enjoyed with games and music. In the peanut hunt Carlton Richardson won the Easter Rabbit for finding the most peanuts.
Batters are up for E. N. Sweet's bungalow to be erected on a lot between the American Legion home and Mr. Sweet's former residence.
Alfred W. Whitehouse, who has been confined to his home several weeks with a broken leg, is able to walk out in pleasant weather.
Read the Intelligence ads. It will interest you. There are wants there that you want.
The G. T. G. Club was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Whittemore, Thursday, April 3, with a good attendance. Two new members joined. The evening was spent with sewing and sociability. Dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Saturday, April 12, with Mrs. Georgia Jackson, South Paris.
Mr. Victor Blanchard will give a free theatre party to all the children of Norway at Rex Theatre, Wednesday, Apr. 16 at 4 o'clock. The picture will be Jack Pickford in "Hill Billy" with specialties. The children will go direct to the theatre and not go to a play.
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene N. Sweet will store their household goods and go to Mrs. George Brooks' on Water Street, where they will live until their new house on Main street is completed. They expect to move next week.
The women of Mooseheart Legion have an important business Tuesday evening, Apr. 22 and every member should be present. Modern Woodmen will serve a supper this Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. All members are asked to be present. Important business meeting after supper.
Herbert Hopkins is with his brother in Portland where he is receiving chiropractic treatment and is improving. Mr. Hopkins has had little use of his left arm and leg, having suffered a shock after an operation some months ago.
The postponed meeting of Browning Reading Club will be held Monday evening, April 14, with Mrs. Fred A. Lovejoy. Program: roll call, humorous anecdotes; reading and "A Cruise Around the Changing World."
Mrs. Clifford Frost is gaining slowly and able to sit up and sleep every day. She has been confined to her bed since last October and at times seriously ill. Her mother, Mrs. C. C. Brackett has assisted in the home a greater part of the winter and will remain for the present.
Alfred A. Everett, who has been at the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Dr. H. B. Bradbury, past ten weeks, returned home Saturday. His daughter, Jessie Everett, went to Portland Friday and accompanied him. He will return to the hospital in another month for further treatment.

SOUTH PARIS
Mrs. Mabel S. Haggerty
The remains of Mrs. Mabel S. Haggerty were brought to South Paris on Saturday from Salem, Mass. Mrs. Haggerty died in a hospital in Salem on April 2, after an illness of some three weeks following a period of failing health.
Mrs. Haggerty was born in South Paris Feb. 2, 1873, the daughter of the late Whitfield and Clara (Knight) Stuart. She leaves a son Raymond McDonald, 22 years of age, with whom she has made her home for the past five years. Mrs. Haggerty is in California. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. H. W. Demmon and Ruth Stuart, both of South Paris, and two brothers, Blanchard Stuart of Mechanic Falls and Dr. Charles S. Stuart of Portland. Miss Ruth Stuart was with her for some time during her illness, and was there the last week and up to her death.
The funeral was held at the Demmon home on Park Street, Sunday afternoon, attended by Rev. H. G. McGlauffin. The son and all the brothers and sisters were present. Burial will be in the family lot in Riverside Cemetery.
Mrs. Elizabeth D. Buck
Mrs. Elizabeth D. Buck, widow of Charles T. Buck, died, Monday, at her home on Skillings avenue, at the age of nearly 86 years. She had been ill for several weeks. Mrs. Buck was born in Paris, April 10, 1838, the daughter of Eleazer and Abigail (Paine) Dunham. Her father served in the War of 1812 as captain.
She received her education in the Paris schools and most of her life has been spent in this town, except three years when she resided in Lewiston. Mrs. Buck married first Mr. M. Stinchfield, who lived but a few years after their marriage. After his death she returned to the home of her parents, near Snow's Falls. She later married Charles T. Buck and they resided on the old homestead farm at Snow's Falls until about 15 years ago, when they moved to South Paris, occupying the Russell house on Gothic street for a short time after which they purchased the Fred Scott house on Skillings avenue, where Mrs. Buck has resided since her husband's death which occurred two years after moving to this village.
Mrs. Buck leaves two sons, Dr. Charles L. Buck of South Paris and George E. Buck of Boston; one granddaughter, Mrs. Raymond Gates of Stearns Hill, Paris, and two great-grandsons, Lloyd Stearns Gates and Richard Stanley Gates. Mrs. Buck was a member of the Deering Memorial Methodist Church, Ladies of the G. A. R., Paris Grange of South Paris and also a member of the Onward Rebekah Lodge of West Paris.

Meeting of School Board
At a joint meeting of the Paris-Woodstock school board, the present superintendent, Alden B. Hayes, was re-elected for a term of two years.
Principal Carlton S. Fuller of South Paris High School was re-elected for a two-year term. Ralph C. Masterman, the sub-master, declined re-election, owing to other plans for next year. Miss Mary, principal of the Brick School, also declined a re-election and will close her engagement in June.
There are to be changes in housing the grades. The seventh will be transferred to the high school building and the third and fourth to the Shurtleff school to the Brick building.
At the request of the West Paris people a commercial course will be established at West Paris high school, to continue as long as there are a sufficient number of pupils to warrant it.
In the future the required rank must be strictly maintained to permit promotion or participation in athletics other than inter-class contests. In this respect the lines are to be drawn tighter than they have been in the past.
The Paris-Woodstock School Union is organized as follows:
Paris Committee—Albert D. Park, Miss Jennie Hubbard, J. T. Hollis.
Woodstock Committee—Lester D. Bryant, Alden Chase, Albert N. Bell.
Chairman—Albert D. Park.
Secretary—Lester D. Bryant.

Paris Grange

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Norway evidence—doubly proven.

E. C. Libby, Sanborn St., Norway, says: "I had a great deal of backache which annoyed me to do anything. My head ached and I noticed specks floating before my eyes and my sight blurred. I used different remedies but it was left to Doan's Pills to give me lasting results. I got Doan's at Stone's Drug Store and since using them I have had no return of kidney complaint." (Statement given June 6, 1916.)

On September 3, 1920, Mr. Libby said: "I haven't had occasion to use Doan's Pills or any other kidney medicine since being cured by Doan's. My faith in this remedy is just as strong as ever."

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

(1924 Model)
Under an ad for gasoline
The village smithy stands;
He's agent for the Jinx machine
And several other brands.
He hasn't shod a horse for years,
For fear he'd soil his hands.

He wears a gold watch on his wrist,
A pearl pin in his button hole.
His links are made of amethyst,
The finest he could buy.

There's not a thing the smithy wears
That doesn't please the eye.
Week in, week out, from morn till night,
He sees the autos come
With engines that are not working right
And tires on the bum.

With gas, repairs, and grease and oil
He makes a tidy sum.
He has a staff of skillful men
That number twenty-four.
Who toll from six a. m. till ten,
And sometimes even more.

The smithy never does a stroke—
He thinks that work's a bore.
The children coming home from school
Look in at the open door,
And laugh to see some city fool
Set up an awful roar.

What called to pay some whopping bill
The smith has soaked him for.
He goes on Sunday to the kirk,
Or the skies so fair and blue,
Because his men are hard at work
With hammers and repairs.

As if the weather's fair and warm
The smith says grateful prayers.
Oiling—refilling—repairing,
Onward through life he goes,
And never once despairing.
So long as his income grows.

Each night the thought of some one done
Augments his sweet repose.
—Harper's.

IN OLD ALBANY
By L. L. Shedd
Was there ever land so fair
Where the roses grew so rare,
Or so fragrant as the air,
Is in Albany.

Nowhere else the sun so bright,
Or the snow so clear and white,
Sheds the moon such mellow light
As in Albany.

Nowhere hearts that beat so true,
Or the skies so fair and blue,
Never saw so fine a view
As in Albany.

There's nowhere a bird with song
Half as sweet, or clear, and long,
Where the children grow so strong
As in Albany.

Where the hills are the highest
And meadows are the driest,
The woods are the mightiest
As in Albany.

The women are the neatest,
The men are the cheeriest,
The girls are the sweetest
As in Albany.

Where the skies are the clearest,
The people are the dearest,
And Heaven is the nearest
As in Albany.

And we hope when God's own hand
Shall lead us "The Blessed Land,"
Is the same as He planned
For Old Albany.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN
If you think your town's the best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have her lead the rest,
Help her grow.

When there's anything to do
Let the fellows count on you.
You'll feel bully when it's through,
Don't you know?

If you want to make a hit,
Get a nudge.
If the other fellow's it,
Who's to blame?

Spend your money in your town,
Thusly keep your prices down.
Give the mail concerns a frown—
That's the game!

If you're used to giving knooks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks,
For a while.

Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his knocking with a boast
And a smile.

When a stranger comes from afar
Comes along,
Tell him who and what you are—
Make it strong.

Needn't flatter, never bluff;
Needn't flatter, for that's enough,
Join the boosters—they're the stuff,
For a while.

OTISFIELD
News From Mt. Hermon
A birthday dinner was given Sunday, March 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Rickert, it being in honor of two birthdays, Carroll Rickert, Jr., six years of age and Verna Mayberry, five years.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Rickert and three children, Carroll, Jr., Naomi and Camilla, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Mayberry and three children, Paul, Helen and Verna, Mrs. Mary S. Mayberry, J. H. Edwards and George Rickert, brother of the host. A fine turkey occupied the center of the table, besides other good things too numerous to mention. A fine time was enjoyed by all.

Miss Sara Mayberry of South Norway, Conn., is staying, a few weeks, with her brother, C. R. Mayberry, Mt. Hermon.

J. H. Edwards expects to go to Paris, Maine, soon and return with his automobile.

Mrs. Mary Mayberry and daughter, Miss Sara Mayberry, will soon go to Lynn, Mass., where Mrs. Mayberry will remain for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mayberry celebrated their twelfth wedding anniversary Sunday, April 6.

Mrs. Elmer Latulip, who has been at the hospital at Norway for the past three weeks, came home last week much improved in health.

Mrs. Maud Lombard is visiting friends at Lisbon Falls.

Mrs. Arthur Smith and children, who have been visiting relatives at Norway a few days, returned home Sunday.

School commenced in district No. 1 at Mt. Hermon of three weeks, taught by Mrs. Annie Baker.

Some of Reuben Kimball's children are sick with scarlet fever.

Gene Edwards is some better.

BETHEL

Mrs. Calvin Cummings, 62, passed away Friday, at her home in Albany, where she has been ill for a long time.

She was born in Grafton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Bartlett, and was one of a family of ten children.

At the age of 26 she married Calvin Cummings of Albany, and to the union four children were born, Freeland, who lives at home and Sherman who is married and lives in Rutland, Mass., and Louisa, who married Fred Tibbets and resides in Rumford Point and Ronell who stays at home. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings have resided in Bethel and Albany nearly all of their married life. She was a member of the Bethel W. R. C. and attended the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Cummings has not been in good health for some time, but has made a brave fight to stay with her family.

Services were held at her late home Monday at 2 o'clock, the Rev. C. B. Oliver officiated. Burial was in the family lot in Evergreen cemetery not far from her late home. She leaves a husband, three sons and one daughter, also several grandchildren who will sadly miss her. S. S. Greenleaf had charge of the services.

A real old fashioned storm reminds us that winter bids a lingering good-bye.

Mrs. William Farwell and her daughter, Mrs. Wallace Wright, will commence to run the ice cream parlor on Main Street.

Erma Marshall has opened the spring term of school in the upper district, Sunday River, Newry; she has taught the previous terms there for the year.

Mrs. Bessie Sloan and granddaughter, Hildred Bartlett, went to Lewiston last week as guests of Roger Sloan and wife. Hildred will spend her vacation of two weeks there.

The Methodists and Universalists united in a candle light service, Sunday evening.

Morton Abbott of Mechanic Falls was a visitor in town, Saturday. He and his son Ralph sold their grocery business there last fall. Mr. Abbott says they will go into business this fall at Mechanic Falls or some other suitable locality.

Mrs. Paul Badger of Portsmouth, N. H., is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Ella Mansfield and cousin, I. L. Carver.

E. F. Peterkin recently purchased two parcels of land of Fred Douglas, one a wood lot on Paradise Road.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Whitney arrived home Sunday evening from St. Petersburg, Florida, where they spent the winter.

The masquerade ball held at the grange hall was well attended and a good time enjoyed with the usual good music.

Miss Nye of the Children's Home in Augusta was in town a few days soliciting funds and receiving. Home is one of the crying needs at the present time.

Mrs. Mary Godwin remains about the same as a few days ago but does not gain.

Robert Farwell has returned to Rumford after spending some time with his mother, Mrs. W. L. Farwell.

Inez Ellwell spent the week end with her people at West Paris.

FRYEBURG

Dana Brown and wife who have lived in Fryeburg several years, went to Rochester, N. H., last week, where Mr. Brown has a fine position. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have many friends who felt badly to have them leave town. They were exemplary citizens and ready at all times to aid every good cause. The best wishes of their fellow workers go with them.

It is with profound regret the news is received from Florida that Mrs. Henry Brown is failing rapidly.

Charles Fox and wife and Ned Fox and wife, Mrs. Brown's nephews, have gone to St. Petersburg and if Mrs. Brown is able she will accompany them home.

Mrs. Eben Fox is also very poorly.

Mrs. George O. Warren is visiting relatives in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Frank Kidlon is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Couse from Thomaston.

Dr. Lougee and wife, who have spent several months in St. Petersburg have returned to Fryeburg.

Wellington Charles of Bowdoin is spending his vacation with his mother.

Percy Emerson is still confined to the house.

Herbert Hodsdon is visiting his mother in Ossipee.

Mrs. Alvin Merrill is visiting in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Sarah Ladd is sick at home with neuritis.

Tobias Eastman who broke his hip, is very comfortable and it looks as if Mr. Eastman would come out much better than conditions at first indicated.

ALBANY

Hunt's Corner and Vicinity
Maitand Bird was in Rumford, Saturday with farm produce.

Mrs. Will Grover and son Edgar who have been spending the week here with Mr. Grover, returned to Lowell, Saturday. Edgar will return to his school at Fryeburg, Tuesday.

School began Monday in the town house district, Miss Jamerson from Roberson, Maine, is teaching and boarding at Irving Beckler's. The scholars from Hunt's Corner district are conveyed to the Town House District.

Winfield Churchill has finished work for Irving Beckler and is staying with his brother, Forest Churchill.

Merle Barker was a recent visitor at Abel Andrews.

Round Mountain Grange met at their hall, Saturday afternoon with a good attendance. All the officers were present. After the usual routine of business the third and fourth degrees were worked on one candidate; Daisy Philbrook was reported ill, but on the gain.

A social hour was enjoyed while refreshments of coffee, sandwiches and delicious cake was served.

SOUTH BETHEL

Harry Isaacson of Auburn was in town one day last week.

Mrs. Walter Yeargle was at Bethel shopping, Tuesday.

Ernest Mason is visiting his brother, Robert Sanborn, and family for a few days.

Harry Chase was at home from Rumford, Sunday.

Ethel Yeargle visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yeargle, over the week end.

Several from here attended the pictures at Bethel, Saturday evening.

Warren Brooks of Locke Mills was in town, Saturday.

Ralph Day of Upton was in town, Friday, calling on relatives and friends.

Plowing.

Merely by a push of the foot you can control the John Deere-Syracuse Two-Way Plow so that the bottoms can do a good job of plowing on hillsides, on level land, in nooks and corners of irregular fields, around stones and other obstructions.

JOHN DEERE
Syracuse Two-Way Plow
Built in the East for the East

The John Deere-Syracuse Two-Way Plow is equipped with one right and one left-hand bottom. Each bottom may be used alternately, and the plow operated back and forth across the field, throwing the soil all one way.

With this plow you can do away with dead furrows and back ridges, where these are not desired.

The Syracuse Two-Way is practically self-operating. The next time you are in town stop in and inspect it. Get on the seat. Shift the levers—notice particularly the patented Auto Foot Frame Shift, regulating width of furrow, controlled by a slight pressure on the foot levers. The Clevis Shift and the Horse Lift are both automatic.

Syracuse Features.

Syracuse bottoms—the bottoms that always fit perfectly and do a good job of plowing.

Made in different styles to meet every soil condition.

Wheels set wide apart—better than narrow tread for hillside work.

BIRD'S ROOFS

Regular Roofs for Regular Men

YOU want a regular roof for your house, garage, bungalow, cottage, barn or factory and we've got that roof.

Bird's Roofs will make good for you just as they have made good for thousands of others, and just as they have made good for us.

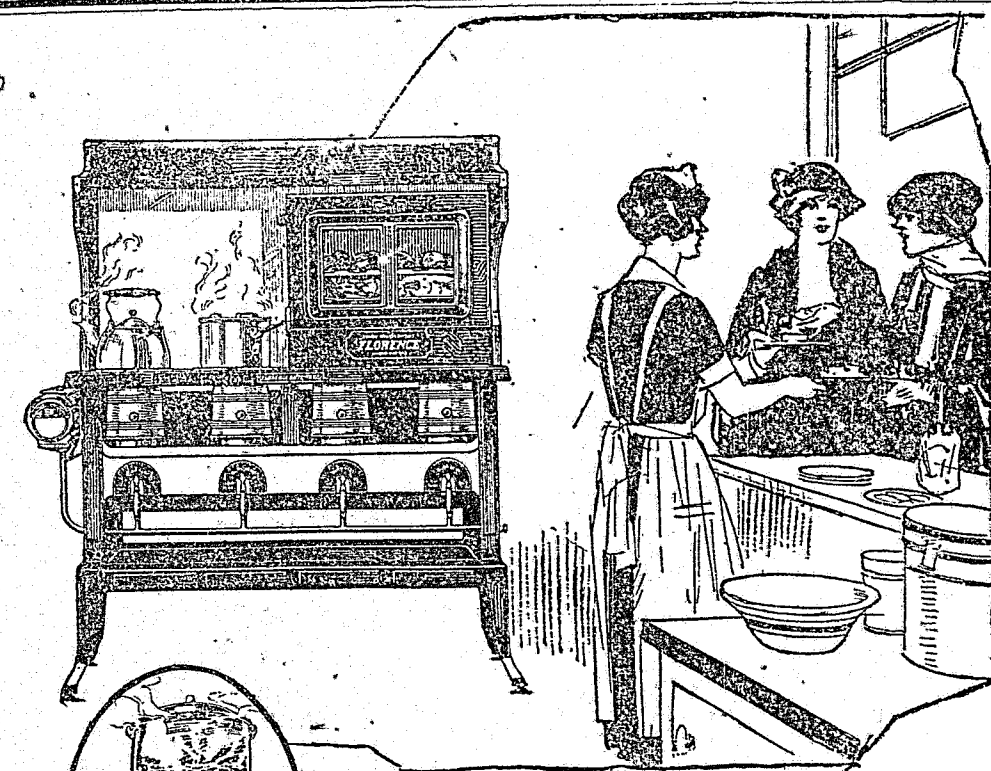

We say Bird's Roofs will make good for you because we know from long experience that they last for years and years, and that folks who own them like their looks and honest wear so much that they are eager to tell their friends what big value they are.

Whether you need Bird's Paroid, Bird's Shingle Design Roofing, Bird's Plain Slate Surfaced, Bird's Granitized Roofings, or Bird's Twin Shingles, we can prove that in the long run Bird's Roofs cost little for the service they give.

Let us show you how

Come in this week and see the Florence Oil Cook Stove in action.

A turn of a lever, a lighted match touched to a burner and the Florence Oil Cook Stove is ready for use.

There will be a demonstrator to answer every question and to show you how the clear, intense flame of the Florence can boil, fry, roast, and bake to a nicety.

Be sure to see this demonstration of the Florence Oil Cook Stove and taste some of the good things prepared.

EVEN SPECIALISTS FAILED

Then the Fruit Treatment—"Fruit-a-tives"
Brought Complete Relief

It is simply marvellous how successful the Fruit Treatment is in overcoming chronic troubles, like Constipation, Dyspepsia and Rheumatism.

The juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes—intensified and combined with tonics—are made into small tablets called "Fruit-a-tives," which have proven the marvels of the medical world for many diseases.

For instance, Mr. James A. Sheil, 80 Oakhill Ave., Waterbury, Conn., says: "I recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone suffering from chronic Constipation. Having suffered for ten years, and receiving little relief from specialists, I at last have been helped by your good tablets."

Your dealer has "Fruit-a-tives"—25c. and 50c. a box—sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdenburg, N.Y.

"The Car for Everyone"

says noted "MOTOR" authority

The New Essex possesses many qualities which I did not believe could be incorporated in a closed car selling for $975.

"It is a type long needed in this country. It possesses grace and beauty, can travel at sustained high speed without passenger discomfort, is surprisingly economical to operate and does not cost much to buy.

"It is unusually smooth, accelerates better than the previous Essex, and which is saying a great deal, and is 'the' car for everyone."—H. A. Tarantous, in MOTOR.

LETTER FROM VIRGINIA

In the following letter received by Mrs. E. A. Cox from her sister, Miss Annie Hobbs, who is doing missionary work in Virginia, she tells something of the life and conditions in the mountain districts. Lower Pocason Mission, McMullen, Virginia.

My dear sister: Will write a few lines to you before going to bed. These are great days. Took my lunch to school with me and spent nearly one-half hour with the children in the woods getting the air and junking up something for kindling for our schoolroom fire mornings. It is lovely and warm now with only a trace of the little snow and ice which fell two weeks ago. It seems so queer to me to go out mornings and find the air so balmy. When the air comes into the house it seems much colder.

I love the teaching of youngsters. Am so pleased with my beginners. They are reading with such good expression and know the punctuation marks and what they mean, also are using the right inflection of voice. Miss Edwards went to a funeral to-day, started about ten and got there about one o'clock. Had to leave the house when near the place and cross two streams on logs. The house was a one room affair with a lean-to. She said in all her mountain work this case seemed the saddest. The woman who had died was about thirty-five years old and had always had fits. She leaves a boy of eight years, who also has fits, and her mother who is not exactly normal. Neither of them had ever been married. The mother feels so terribly in that desolate place, no neighbors in sight of the house and those at a distance are a very undesirable class. The night her daughter was dying some of them removed stones from the underpinning of the house and hid their bottles of liquor there. At the services one man was so drunk he was led to get into a fight. The mission above us has a lot of that to contend with. We have but little in this compared with the others.

Miss Knight at the upper mission is a brave little woman and faces much which I would not dare to.

Will close now, with much love, Annie.

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

The local newspaper in the town of average size is a most excellent medium for advertising purposes and merchants should make better use of this very important business producing factor. As a general thing, as is the newspaper, so is the town. If the newspaper of a town does not amount to much, it is the fault of the merchants of that town. The merchants of a town must support their newspaper. Many an otherwise good town is worth but little because of neglect in this respect.

Many a well-located town, that could be made an excellent merchandising center, is dead because the men in business there treat the editor of their newspaper as an object of charity.

The newspaper in a community is read by the people. They learn to watch for and wait for it. When it comes, every member of the family wants his turn to see what it says. Are they mentioned in it? Is anything said about any of their friends? This paper is read and, according to the value of the news and information in it, either increases or decreases in its popularity.

Often you hear, "Oh, pshaw, there is nothing in the Eagle any more, what's the use of taking it?" When this stage of a newspaper's career is reached, it is time the merchants of a town were looking after its patronage.

Not only are the news items and other information in the local paper—be it ever so poor—read, but the advertisements are read also. Many merchants do not believe this. Let a merchant ask any one, or a dozen, of his lady customers what was in a certain merchant's advertisement in the last issue, and she will tell him exactly what was offered.

Some people are disappointed if their names do not appear in the paper when they have been visiting, or have visitors, even if these same people have not acquainted the editor with this particular news item. Here then is where the merchants can help out. When anything of this nature comes to their attention, they should see it in to the paper. He will appreciate it and the people to whom the item has reference will be pleased, very much so. This makes better friends and better readers for the paper; and that is what is needed.

An editor with this sort of support will get up a good paper; he will continually improve it. The paper will be read, and, if your advertisement is in it, this will also be read; and if it is a good live, virile advertisement, it is bound to sell goods; for people will read and, if a desire is created, they will buy; they just must have the goods advertised.

The right kind of an editor is always ready to do anything for the benefit of the town. He will do more than he is paid for, as will any public-spirited man; but he can only succeed when the town is prospering. And a town can only prosper if the merchants of that town are alive, wide-awake advertisers.

No merchant of the town should "knock." Even if "knocking" is necessary, it strikes the fault-finder the hardest; for he himself is the prime cause of the circumstances that called forth the knocking in the original instance. It is a merchant's duty to support and help the home paper in every possible way, to "boost" it, for he will be the direct financial gainer in the end.

It is a literal truth that a newspaper returns to the advertiser a dollar for every cent he puts into it, regardless of the direct custom he may derive from his advertising. The editor, appreciating the fact that the merchants are willing to spend money to get business and are endeavoring to keep the business in their town, is certainly going to keep up his end of the bargain by making his paper so interesting as to induce all his townspeople to read it—and he will not be financially obligated to out-of-town sellers.

What Boosting Does

This is not theory, but actual fact. Any live town can prove this claim, and, in fact, many an apparently dead town has been made into an excellent trading center by such means. One merchant of course cannot do this alone. When action is needed—and every town does need it, even the best—every business man's association should be formed and these matters thoroughly discussed.

The two greatest factors in making this country the biggest, the best, and the most enlightened in the world are the public schools and the local newspapers. And every town's success depends upon these two factors; therefore, those whose living depends upon the town's success should not neglect either. This matter is important, very important, in these days of parcel post and mail order competition, centralization of power, and the like. The retail merchant must preserve his individuality and in no other way can this be accomplished as readily as by means of the local newspaper.

I'M CALLING YOU

I am the best friend of mankind. To the man who prizes sanity, peacefulness, pure-mindedness, social standing and longevity, I am a necessity.

I am hung with sweet memories—memories of brides—memories of mothers—memories of boys and girls—memories of the aged as they grope their way down the shadows. I am decked with loving tears—gripped by happy hands and hearts. In the minds of the greatest men of earth find a constant dwelling place. I live in the lives of the young and in the dreams of the old. I safeguard man through all his paths—from the first hour life's sun slants upon his footprints until the purple gathers in the west and the darkness falls. I lift up the fallen. I strengthen the weak. I help the distressed. I show mercy, bestow kindness and offer a friendly hand to the man in purple and fine linen and the man in homespun.

I am the essence of good fellowship, friendliness and love. I give gifts that gold cannot buy, nor kings take away. They are given freely to all that ask. I bring back the freshness of life, the eagerness, the spirit of youth that feels that it has something to live for ahead. I meet you with outstretched arms and with songs of gladness.

Some time—some day—some hour—in the far future, you will yearn for the touch of my friendly hand. I am your comforter and your best friend, I'm calling you. I'm the church.

WHY AND HOW WE GROW BEETS

In the first place we grow beets to feed our cows and heifers during official test work. We have found that while feeding an increased amount of grain the practically safe to the ration makes it a challenge from the great gathering at Columbus, Ohio, 1st, Face Facts; 2nd, Use your vote; 3rd, Train the youths to fight the drug power, to work for social morality and inspire them to Christian Service. A splendid address was given, full of enthusiasm, inspiration and appeal to every White Ribboner to be up and doing their full duty. The service closed with the benediction by Rev. Olin B. Tracy. Miss Porter was entertained at the home of Mrs. Elton L. Brown.

When the time and land is right we broadcast about 1700 pounds 5-8-7 or 4-5-4 to the acre and thoroughly work this into the soil. We must remember the beet is a tiny plant when it first comes up out of the ground and must have a fine seed bed. Now comes one of the secrets of beet growing, perhaps you have already learned, if not it is this: We take our two horse potato hoe that we use on our potatoes and we use our piece of land as you would hill your potatoes, about thirty inches apart, and if there are any loose stones we remove them. Then we take our land roller and roll the piece lengthwise of the rows. Now if we have done our work thoroughly we have got an ideal seed bed all ready for the hand seed drill, which we set at work as soon as possible, for the reason we want to get the seed into the moist soil at once, for the nature of the beet seed calls for moisture as well as heat to make it germinate and come up quickly.

I have said nothing about quality of seed, for I assume we all realize we must have the best. In due time if we have done our work well and the seed was good, weather favorable, we will have a stand of beets, if we should have a little light frost after they are up they will not mind it.

As soon as you can see the plants you can go through with a one horse cultivator set narrow and follow with the hoe and cut any weeds on the side of the ridge, and follow this method as often as necessary until time to thin that is when it takes a lot of time and care to do it. It is right, you have to look out and not thin when it is too hot and dry.

When it comes to thinning our method would be a little different than the one on growing beets for market. You can readily see that when you have got to pull and remove the top from every beet, the larger they are and less in number the less cost in harvesting and handling, and are thing more weight per acre, so we thin for that object.

You can readily see that when you have got to pull and remove the top from every beet, the larger they are and less in number the less cost in harvesting and handling, and are thing more weight per acre, so we thin for that object.

As soon as you can see the plants you can go through with a one horse cultivator set narrow and follow with the hoe and cut any weeds on the side of the ridge, and follow this method as often as necessary until time to thin that is when it takes a lot of time and care to do it. It is right, you have to look out and not thin when it is too hot and dry.

When it comes to thinning our method would be a little different than the one on growing beets for market. ## Norway Klansmen Gave Demonstration

A blazing cross and a brass band the curtain raiser for the Ku Klux Klan lecture at Norway Opera House Wednesday evening, W. H. Klein of Portland, formerly of Akron, Ohio, spoke before an audience of about 500 men and women and held the closest attention for two hours and more.

The evening program opened with a concert on the street by the Norway-finishing, a huge cross erected on Pike's Hill blazed out in a manner to attract attention over a wide area. Crowds gathered at vantage points to witness the fiery spectacle.

A program in the Opera House opened with selections by the band including "America," by a prayer by Mr. Baker, W. H. Klein appeared as a substitute for P. Eugene Farnsworth, King Keagle of Maine, entered upon his plea for Americans to save America.

The keynote of his able discourse was the immigration question in the light of facts. The speaker argued from an audience of about 500 men and women and held the closest attention for two hours and more.

European countries are suffering faster than we can absorb them. He stated, if this continues, native born Americans will themselves be absorbed within 50 years. According to Mr. Klein, comparatively few foreigners locating in large cities ever become real citizens, retaining their language, customs and creed ideals. Their idea of America is liberty without law, and making money.

The speaker was very kindly disposed toward the Catholic faith and granted the constitution to every right and privilege allowed under our constitution. Any cult or organization working under the name "religion" has a right to exist so long as state or federal laws are respected. When any "machine" in the guise of religion become so powerful as to disregard law and the constitution, it must be checked.

America is founded on a belief in Almighty God, the Protestant Bible and the constitution, exclaimed the speaker. The little red schoolhouse came from this trinity and the home has been made a sacred place. The Eighty Fathers made it possible to establish a government respected by the stars and stripes, and not Columbus, was Mr. Klein's emphatic statement.

Advice for Norway High School Boys
I. Cigarettes or tobacco in any form hinders the growth and injures the nerves and health.

II. Cigarettes foster the tobacco habit, and may make anyone a slave to it.

III. The cigarette habit does not help a man in his life work, and may prevent him from obtaining a good position in business.

IV. The most reliable business establishments refuse to employ boys who smoke cigarettes.

V. The following are among the poisons used in the cigarettes: arsenic, creosote, nicotine, opium, salt, petre, thoma which are harmful.

VI. Cigarette smoking makes a boy dull and stupid, impairs his memory and prevents his advance in school.

VII. Smoking creates an unnatural thirst, which may lead to drinking in-texturing liquors.

VIII. Smoking is a selfish habit, which may cause annoyance, discomfort, and distress to others.

IX. Tobacco affects the eye, ear, nose, or sight, hearing and smelling and also the heart.

X. It costs more than most boys can afford to pay to have their nerves and health ruined.

XI. Smoking is a useless and expensive habit and always does harm in a greater or less degree.

XII. It is also a filthy habit and defiles the body, and anything that defiles or injures the body is a sin against God, who created man in his own image.

Ancient Hand Forged Jackknife
We got a new knife. It is new to us but old in looks. As Uncle Eph said, "It looks as though it had been in the world a long time." It has a steel blade and a horn handle.

You can shave, cut your throat or fingers with it as you see fit. The possessor is envied by all Norway Club members. A. S. Kneeland, Yarmouthville, was the giver. Thanks.

We invite him to call and see the knife in action.

Nominated Associate Justice

Gov. Baxter, on Tuesday, nominated Hon. Charles P. Barnes of Houlton, former speaker of the House of Representatives as Associate Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Associate Justice George M. Hanson of Calais. The nomination will be in line for confirmation at the session of the Governor and Council to be held Tuesday, April 22.

Mr. Barnes was born in Houlton, Oct. 12, 1869, and is 54 years old. He was the son of Francis and Isa Putnam Barnes, prominent in that section of the State at one time. Mr. Barnes received his education in the public schools of Houlton, and at Ricker Classical Institute in that town, and upon graduating entered Colby College, from which he was graduated in 1892.

He took post-graduate work, and the following year received his master's degree from Colby. From 1892 to 1899 Mr. Barnes taught school and was principal of the high schools in that period in Lisbon Falls and Norway in this State and in Attleboro, Mass. Mr. Barnes continued his association with school work for the next ten years, being superintendent of schools of Norway.

Having decided to finish his preparation for the bar, Mr. Barnes went to Portland, where he pursued his legal studies in the office of the late Judge Joseph W. Symonds, and in 1900 was admitted to the Oxford County bar. He was county attorney of Oxford County from 1904 to 1909 and assistant attorney general of Maine from 1909 to 1911.

In the latter year he removed to his native place, and has since practiced law in Houlton being associated for several years with Congressman Ira G. Hersey. Mr. Barnes is a trustee of Ricker Classical Institute and of the Houlton Public Library. He has served as a member of the school board of Houlton for several years. In 1913 he was appointed a member for Maine of the National Association for Uniform State Laws. He has been active in the public politics of the State for many years, and was a member of the House of Representatives from Houlton in the sessions of 1917, 1919 and 1921, being speaker of the House in the 1921 session. He was permanent chairman of the Republican State Convention held in Portland last week.

Mr. Barnes married Annie M. Richardson of Norway in 1896, and they have several children.

Married Fifty-Six Years

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Russell passed the 56th anniversary of their marriage on Saturday. While there was no special celebration of the occasion, they were remembered by many of their friends with gifts of flowers and fruit. Mr. and Mrs. Russell were married in Hartford, April 5, 1868. They have four children, two sons and two daughters, all of whom reside in South Paris, Benjamin Y. Russell, Leon Russell, Eva, wife of Bertram Clifford, and Adella, wife of Alton Maxon. Another son, Lewellyn, died about 29 years ago at the age of 15 years.

Mr. Russell was born at Hartford, Feb. 5, 1849. His father was Andrew Russell, who was also born in Hartford. His mother, before her marriage, was Sarah Burgess. He received his education in the schools of New Britain, where he was 19 years of age, married Jane Young, daughter of Benjamin and Ruth (Benson) Young of Hartford. His business until he was 45 years of age was farming. He then engaged in the lumber business, next in the livery business and later in the grain business. Mr. Russell has been very successful in whatever kind of work he has taken up and has prospered in his business. He has now retired from all kinds of business. Mr. Russell and family moved to South Paris about 30 years ago. He is a member of Mount Mead Lodge of Odd Fellows of South Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Russell are both members of the South Paris Universalist Church.

South Paris Plans a Twilight League. At a meeting held April 8, the South Paris Athletic Association was formed for the purpose of promoting interest in baseball during the spring and summer months. The following officers, captains and manager were elected:

President—J. H. Shaw.
First Vice—Robert Shaw.
Second Vice—M. Merrill.
Captain—Fred Butler.
Captain—Fred Butler.
Manager—A. P. Goldsmith.

An advisory committee consisting of R. R. Butts, Harry Shaw, L. O. Barrows, A. P. Goldsmith and Clarence MacDonald. The teams will be made up of local boys who are requested to pass their names to anyone of the advisory committee stating the position they wish to try for.

After the town team is chosen the remaining candidates will be divided into as many teams as is thought advisable and a schedule of games will be made up to be played evenings and holidays. The management is looking for games with teams in nearby towns.

American Legion Auxiliary

On Wednesday evening, April 2, a large delegation from the Legion and Auxiliary attended the supper and meeting of the Arthur Foster Lodge, South Paris. Games and sociability followed, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

The 1923 annual report of the Exemptions Office of the Maine Public Health Association to the Board of Directors, members and contributors, includes the following interesting data concerning the Maine Public Health Association which is composed of the local health societies and committees throughout the State:

During 1923 local health nurses associated with graduation were called to the bedside of 21,556 sick Maine men, women and children. In addition to this work the nurses gave health inspection to 12,400 school children and of this number 8,005 were found to have correctable physical defects. Following the discovery of these defects, the nurses held conferences with parents to help as much as possible in having these defects remedied.

Nearly 40,000 boys and girls were helped to train themselves in health-promoting habits through the daily health "chapters" of the Modern Health Crusade. This brings the number of Maine boys and girls who have been helped in this way to more than 110,000.

Lecture courses on conservation of vision were conducted at the University of Maine and the State Normal Training School at Castine. Lectures on various health subjects were delivered before classes at the University, the normal schools and colleges. Health lectures concerning the protection of health and the prevention of sickness were delivered to Maine audiences arranged by women's clubs, parent-teacher associations, granges and farm bureaus. The total of these audiences exceeded 100,000 persons.

More than 200,000 pieces of health literature were distributed, a considerable part of this total in Maine's mills and factories. These health pamphlets included the following subjects: "The Prevention of Tuberculosis," "Diet for the Growing Child," "The Control of Cancer," "Care of the Teeth," "Helps for the Expectant Mother," etc. Health exhibits reaching audiences totaling more than 30,000 were held in nearly 100 Maine cities and towns. "The Jolly Jester," health teacher for children, was routed for a six week's trip in ten Maine counties reaching more than 31,000 boys and girls. A section of the Maine Public Health Association, designated as the child health section, was formed. The section has undertaken a broad program of work for children beginning with prenatal work among mothers as well as work for protecting the health of infants and school children. Included in this program is the state-wide activities on behalf of crippled children.

The report also includes the audit accounts showing the receipt of a total of $27,806 and the expenditure of $27,068. Of this amount $12,913 came through contributions of interested individuals, clubs, granges and manufacturers and the balance from the proportion of the returns from the sale of Christmas Seals which the M. P. H. A. receives. A tribute to the thousands of local workers who are making Maine's health progress possible, concludes the report.

If you don't care much about the in situation of work, don't go into the dairy business. We have never known a successful dairyman who was not a glutton for work.

GARDENS THAT PRODUCE RESULTS
Kind and Quantity of Seed to Buy and Plant
By Seth W. Shoemaker, Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.
The average amateur gardener of little experience is always perplexed as to what seed to buy and as how much seed to buy for this garden.
How much will the housewife need during the coming months?
Failure to estimate this fairly accurately will make him lose caste as a gardener at the family council. No excuses can be accepted for running out of

WOMAN SO ILL
COULD NOT WORK

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Her Suffering and Restored Her Health

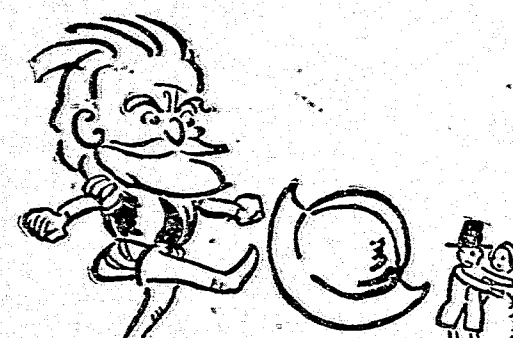

Momence, Illinois.—"I surely can recommend your medicine to other women who have female weakness, as it has helped me very much in every way possible. I was working in a dining room in town, and sometimes I could not do my work; I had pains in the lower part of my body and had to stay in bed. One of my neighbors told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and it has surely done wonders for me. I hope all women who suffer will take my advice as the Vegetable Compound has done so much to bring back my vigor and strength."—Mrs. ALBERT E. DESCHAUD, Momence, Illinois.

Over 121,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent. of these replies answer "Yes." That is 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Oxford Sanatorium Destroyed by Fire

The Oxford Spring House on Allen Hill, near Oxford Village, was burned early Sunday afternoon, together with two large barns. Loss is estimated at $40,000 partially covered by insurance. The property was owned by Mrs. Farris, widow of Dr. H. R. Farris of Oxford, Dr. William Haskell of Lewiston and Dr. Ralph Goodwin of Auburn.

The three-story wooden structure was formerly a popular summer resort, but during the past four or five years had been the home of many World War Veterans under treatment for tuberculosis. At the time of the fire, thirty-three veterans with Dr. E. F. Sullivan and two nurses were at the hospital. The vestry of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Oxford was turned into temporary quarters and many homes received the vets. So far as can be learned, the ex-soldiers saved most of their personal effects. Only one patient was bed ridden but he was removed to the home of Mrs. Farris.

The Oxford Fire Department with apparatus from the Robinson Mfg. Co. was on the scene early but could do little to check the flames, owing to the long distance from the water supply. A strong south wind swept the hill top and carried blazing embers a considerable distance.

Directly after the fire, members of the Women's Relief Corps at Oxford set to work and provided supper for the homeless vets. Women of the American Legion Auxiliary also rendered all possible aid.

A chimney burning out is believed to have started the fire. When discovered the roof was ablaze and made considerable headway before an alarm for help could be phoned to the Oxford center.

It is understood this structure was erected by Mrs. Isabel Pease of Brookton, Mass., on the site of a former hotel owned by her and destroyed by fire some thirty years ago. A few years after, she rebuilt the property reverted by a foreclosure to the Saco and Biddeford Savings Bank. It had been closed about five years when purchased by the three physicians.

PIGEON HILL

Mrs. Mary Denning Hall

Mary Denning Hall died March 26th after being confined to her bed for six months. She was born in Mechanic Falls Nov. 8, 1869, receiving her education in the common schools and later graduating at Hebron Academy. She was a very successful teacher in many surrounding towns. Later she taught in Massachusetts where she became acquainted with Horace Hall, a native of Oxford, whom she married in 1893.

They resided in Baldwinville where Mr. Hall was bookkeeper in a large chair manufacturing company. In 1897 he severed his connections there and came to Oxford where he acted as bookkeeper for J. B. Robinson's woolen mill until his death in 1913.

One son was born to them, William Kelsey Hall, who is a graduate of Bowdoin and is now working in Brunswick. Mrs. Hall was placed in the tomb and later will be buried in the family lot at Maple Grove Cemetery.

The flowers were beautiful, especially the wreaths from neighbors and friends. Rev. Odell Bryant of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated. The bearers were C. K. Denning, William Hall, Charles March and Clarence March.

Mrs. Francette Burns, who has been at C. K. Denning's for the past month, has returned to her home in Kittery.

Dennis Martin of Rumford attended Pomona and is stopping with his brother Orin for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. McKenney of Mt. Vernon were guests of Mrs. McKenney's sister, Mrs. C. K. Denning, last week.

Bert and Herbert Mayberry are building a brooder house; hatching chicks is the order of the day.

Richard Tyner is expecting 500 day old chicks from the Red Feather Farm, Norway.

Mrs. George Tyner bought 200 day old chicks of Mrs. Howard Coy.

C. K. Denning has two fine litters of pups.

Clifford Tyner had the misfortune to slip and break his leg. He was taken to the Sisters' Hospital.

A. D. Thayer is working on the town's valuation in Oxford.

Mrs. A. D. Thayer is assisting her daughter, Mrs. Goldenman, in settling her house at Mechanic Falls for house-keeping.

Mrs. Clarence Graffam is gaining.

HOW TO WRITE A POEM

By Fred M. Davis

More than once I have been asked this question: "How do you write a poem?" It is true there is no manual for poem writing. Books have been published showing words that rhyme with each other but nothing as yet that proves of much value to the writer. People who write poems or do unusual things are generally handicapped as being dippy or, as I would say, "nut," but slang is not down in my dictionary, therefore, I do not use it.

On the contrary, a person to write a standard poem must be of sound mind and the false ideas expressed above are without foundation.

Let me say it requires thought in the beginning. Generally a poem dawn on me through some action or the common everyday walks of life. My poem, "Give Me A Day," was first thought of one day as I looked from my home across the meadow that contains many acres of moving country, the opening lines are as follows:

Give me a day to steal away
Across the meadow green,
In summer time when the weather's fine
And babbling brooks are seen.

Simple enough though it seems, think it out as you go along, no one ever wrote anything yet until they had first thought it out. I think you will agree that we all find joy in thinking good things even if they cannot be enacted, and so we continue to the second verse.

Where buttercups and daisies grow
Across the fields so wide,
Where gentle breezes always blow
Along the mountain side.

A poem is not written while your mind is at random, the job is not done while words are tossed haphazardly together. Something else has to be had. Perhaps it is safe to say you must have or exercise deep thought and power of mind to make up the material or makings for a good poem. Many of my poems have been completed during a period of twenty-four hours, some are done in a week, while others have required much longer.

It depends largely on the spare time I have and the mood I may be in. Most people know that different days, the same piece of work is done much easier. Verses are made up as I go about my work during the day and written down as the thought or idea comes to me just as a preacher writes his sermon. He dwells on a chosen subject through the week, gathers the material and as Sunday draws near he arranges it just a bit and thus the job is done. Simple if you like it, and truly interesting.

Skipping to the last verse which is number six, we find that the lines read as follows:

To add new life from the world of strife,
With the love that brook that kills,
To add strength and vim to my soul within,
'Tis the steady knock that kills.

The price of some of my recent poems has been much midnight oil and the loss of balmy sleep and were based entirely on imagination. One of these I mention is entitled "His Last Heavy Load."

Pardon me, when I tell you that although this rhyme is based entirely on imagination, my eyes were wet before I had a chance to finish some of the closing lines. As it is, however, telling the story of a heartless wretch and the cruelty practiced on a dumb beast. I often dwell on a title for weeks only waiting a chance to jot down my ideas and picture it out before my eyes as it lies before me, but the field is large and seems to be without limit.

The reader will bear in mind that some of the best works of old time poets were completed when their hair was snowy white. I have read that it took Gray seventeen years to write "Gray's Elegy." I could not question this when I look at this wonderful piece of work.

When my poem entitled "When We Are Gone" was published years ago, a man said to me these words, "that is an old English poem." But I expected that I would refer you to that old-time quotation, "No man is without honor except—." I don't need to go any farther as most of you know the rest. A knock that we must all learn to expect and I think they will agree with me that it only helps to spur an achievement on to victory. I was fair with him, I gave him the rest of 'is life to look in any book, magazine or newspaper in the found a single line like mine I would be willing to undergo any ordeal he might name. Here I will quote the first line of my latest poem entitled "The Old-Time Blacksmith."

Just down the street I often meet
The blacksmith bent and old,
With business gone he looks forlorn,
His forehead is a map of wrinkles.

I believe care should be taken on any occasion where a recitation is given not to keep your hearers a long time guessing whether you are reading prose or a poem. Such practice is not interesting to any audience. Only lines that rhyme can rightfully be called poetry, no matter what style it may be written. Without rhythm it is not poetry. A comedian once repeated a poem to an audience where I was lucky enough to be present, and it caused more laughter than anything I had ever witnessed before. Why did it please? Because the reader did not try to cheat his hearers, he gave them a chance, as the writer intended, to enjoy the true life of the poem, the rhythm.

Your recitation can be made plain and easily understood if you will make a short pause at the end of lines and not clip the ends of lines too abruptly.

It has already been said that no one renders a work of just the same as the composer does. When I hear Walter Rolfe of Rumford, Me., play his world famous waltz, "Kiss of Spring," do I expect it will sound the same as it does when others play it. No, of course not, no one renders it just like himself. I have noticed many times in the past that in sending articles to publishers that the sender often makes an unpardonable mistake. One case I remember distinctly, last Christmas I read in a local newspaper where some person referred to that world famous poem, "The Night Before Christmas." The title was published and also a line or two, but the original title is not the same as was published, the title used read as follows, "A Night Before Christmas."

This great mistake spoils the ideas and renders the poem worthless because only one night has any bearing on the original title and by meeting it was it would refer to any night before Christmas.

I try to hold such poems as this in high esteem and mistakes like this are needless. Longfellow's poem, "The Old Clock," was once published in a newspaper, the title read as follows, "The Old Clock On The Stairs." Such a title as that has no meaning. The clock referred to in the poem stood half-way up the stairs on what is known as a rest, it could not stand on the stairs. The right title reads "The Old Clock." If one single word or line in changed, then it is not his poem.

I have schoolmates living today who with a very little study could put their sketching although they don't seem to realize it themselves. But it requires work and ambition if you would excel in any work of art and reach the top round of the ladder of success. Must I call them daffy, so to speak? No, I must realize that they have been endowed with a God-given power that lies far from my reach, it is an inheritance. Any writer uses his head, his gift and his dictionary. The meaning of words must be correct, the spelling must be right and the writer is well schooled on these few facts. It is true that people who do unusual things are old and different perhaps from the common individual. We are all different, we look different. People who do difficult things, looks queer to you, but it is as I said before, an inheritance and one that we have a right to claim.

Most great men who drank from the goblet of fame were men who believed in God, without this fact their life work would be shallow in the eyes of men. Never let it be said of you, "An Infidel Lies Here." I have tried to make it plain to you that to write a good poem it requires work, thought, sentiment and ambition.

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK AND ARBOR DAY—1924

By the President of the United States of America. A Proclamation

Whereas, it is essential to the continued comfort, welfare, and prosperity of the people of the United States that abundant forests, widely distributed and maintained in a condition of high productivity, be forever wisely conserved as one of our greatest natural resources; and

Whereas, because of our constantly increasing need for wood and other forest products, together with our past failure to provide for reforestation, we are drawing upon our supplies of timber four times as fast as they are renewed through growth; and

Whereas, the most formidable agency of forest destruction and prevention of reforestation is fire and of the fires which, annually devastate vast areas, four-fifths are ascribed in origin to human agencies and virtually all may be controlled and made innocuous through prudence, care, and vigilance;

Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do urge upon the Governors of the various States to designate and set apart the week of April 21-27, 1924, as Forest Protection Week, and, wherever practicable and not in conflict with State law or accepted customs, to celebrate Arbor Day within the week; and as individuals, all in association or as individuals, all in schools, and the press of the land to give common thought to the protection of our forests from fire, to the end that in the future as in the past these forests may supply us with wood, protect the purity of our streams and otherwise serve the people of the United States.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 15th day of Feb., in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-eighth.

Calvin Coolidge

By the President:
Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State.

Three doses a day keep Mother and me fit - Peptona

Peptona is a great tonic—our best one. It enriches the blood, builds up strength and improves the health generally.

At this season when the system is run down from the strain of winter or from overwork, and when coughs, colds and diseases of the throat are so prevalent, Peptona is invaluable.

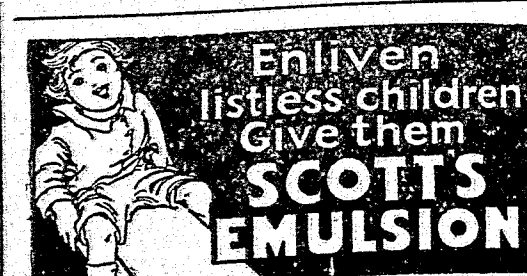

Peptona is palatable—therefore ideal for persons whose digestive apparatus is in a weakened condition.

PRINCIPLES OF POULTRY HOUSE CONSTRUCTION

When one considers that hens living in a climate like we have in Maine, it must be remembered that they are living in a climate entirely unnatural to them. It should also be realized that when these hens produce eggs during the fall and winter months that they are producing these eggs out of season. To accomplish satisfactory results in egg production, therefore, the house in which these hens live must be comfortable.

A house to be comfortable must provide certain conditions. First of all, the most important condition to be provided is dryness. Dampness in poultry houses comes largely from the hens themselves. Hens having a high body temperature breathe more rapidly and more air per pound of body weight than do other animals and with a highly developed living system, they give off a great deal of moisture through their skin. Unless sufficient ventilation is provided, this moisture coming in contact with the cold walls of the house in winter collects in the form of frost. Then during a warm period the frost will melt, making a damp condition in the house and will provide ideal conditions for cold and roup.

Damp floors and litter in a poultry house are often caused by the house setting close to the ground. Damp litter is very detrimental since hens will not scratch in it and will not get the exercise needed. This condition can usually be prevented by building the house at least one and one-half feet from the ground, leaving it open underneath.

Ventilation is essential in a poultry house not only to eliminate moisture but also to provide fresh air and to rid the house of foul gases and odors. Another important factor is sunshine. The house should face the south and the windows and opening in the south side should permit sunshine to strike all parts of the floor at some time during the day.

Besides being comfortable for the hens, the poultry house should be conveniently arranged so that it will require the least amount of time and care for the hens. It should be constructed as economically as possible.

The open front type of house, facing the south, built up from the ground and with the uneven pitch roof, provides all of these conditions.

An important point to consider in the open front type of house is the depth. Sixteen feet is considered a minimum depth for satisfactory houses of this type and one which is 18 by 24 feet deep is preferable, since they are warmer and the hens may be kept in larger flocks, thereby reducing the labor. In deep houses of this type it is advisable to put small windows in the north side of the house underneath the dropping boards. This tends to equalize the light on the floor and keeps the litter more evenly distributed.

When the principles necessary to provide comfort, convenience and a low cost in a poultry house are applied, the type of structure or kind of material is of less importance.

A FORERUNNER OF TROUBLE

Since Maine has entered the registration area of our country, there has been so great a diminution in the number of deaths from typhoid fever that, if calamitous times could carry us back to the original condition, there would be an increase in the death rate from typhoid fever of between 500 and 600 per cent. over what it is now. The lowering of this special death-rate has come from the bettering of public water supplies, the controlling and improving of milk supplies, the teaching of the owners of wells and springs of the great danger of contamination and the use of disinfecting matter, and the educative work, which was begun in our State earlier than elsewhere, which emphasizes the danger of contact infection—the direct transmission of infection from the sick to those who associate with them.

As an additional means of reducing the sickness rate and the death-rate from typhoid fever, the State Department of Health wishes to appeal to local health officers and other persons to report promptly any unusual prevalence of intestinal disturbances so that an investigation may be made as to the cause of such gastrointestinal troubles. It has happened frequently that outbreaks of typhoid fever, the infection of which has been water-borne, have been preceded by intestinal outbreaks. Winter outbreaks of typhoid fever have again and again followed in the wake of the so-called "winter cholera," and the appearance of typhoid fever at other seasons is sometimes preceded by these less serious ailments.

CARE IN AUTOMOBILING

The word automobile starts with "A." So does the word accident. There have been too many accidents during the past few years, due principally to carelessness. By exercising a little caution and mixing in a little common sense in the operation of a car, a great many accidents may be avoided. "Obey the motor vehicle laws and don't forget that you aren't on a race track," might serve as a slogan.

Pedestrians should use the same care and parents should instruct their children in the dangers of the public highways. All this would help.

Perhaps just one more thing—the old saying that "alcohol and gasoline don't mix." The man who drives while under the influence of intoxicating liquors is a public menace. Last year the courts were particularly strict in this respect. This year will find them even more stern in dealing with this class of criminals. The man who is caught trying to mix the two may cool his heels in the county jail for a few months. That also is a good thing to remember.

HOUSECLEANING TIME

Housecleaning time has come, the busiest time of the year for the housewife and the most trying time for the rest of the family, but it's soon over; the house is so clean when everything is in order again. If the men would only have patience while the work is being done, it would make it much easier for the wives.

I am sorry to say that some of them are exceedingly cross and fault finding until the price has been taken on their dress. I wish the men were obliged to do the work and give the tired wife a rest; then they would realize what a woman has to do to set her house in order. They might in the future assist her with the work.

You can't tell a thing about an upright piano. Sometimes some downright awful music is played on an upright piano.

OXFORD

Elbridge W. Edwards

Elbridge Warren Edwards, one of Oxford's oldest business men, died suddenly at his home on Main street, Wednesday morning. Apparently he was in his usual health when he was in the store, Tuesday. Mr. Edwards was born in Otisfield, June 9, 1837, the son of Bruce McLean and Miriam Frost Edwards. When he was eight years of age the family moved to Bethel, returning two years later to Otisfield. At the age of 24 Mr. Edwards went to Boston where he worked for Horace Partridge in an old established store.

He then came to Oxford where he worked for years in the Shurtlandt paper factory. When the Boston branch opened a factory store in the basement of the Oxford House, and here Mr. Edwards was employed as a clerk. When T. R. Robinson went to South Windham, the business was continued under the firm name of Robinson & Hall, and Mr. Edwards continued in their employ for two years.

In 1862 E. W. Edwards and Frank W. Lord formed a partnership under the firm name of Edwards & Lord and bought the business of Robinson & Hall. Upon the removal of Thomas Baker to Portland, Mr. Lord purchased his share and the business was removed to the old store.

In 1871 Mr. Lord purchased Mr. Edwards' share in the business taking into partnership Charles Seibert. The following year Mr. Edwards bought the business from Mr. Seibert and continued it under the name of E. W. Edwards & Son. In 1875, and they have since that time been a well-known and successful business in Bangor.

Mr. Edwards was married to Mrs. Mary Ann Edwards in 1857, and they have four children, three sons and one daughter. His wife died in 1901.

Mr. Edwards was a member of the Methodist Church and was very active in its work. He was also a member of the Oxford Spring Sanatorium and was very popular among the veterans who were in the hospital.

Wednesday the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church met in the vestry for a cleaning bee.

EASTER NEAR AT HAND

The Easter showing of New Apparel is ready. Assortments were never more complete and styles never so attractive. Weeks and months of careful planning and selection have brought together an array of which we are justly proud.

We invite you to this showing with the thought that you will find pleasure in inspecting the beautiful garments and materials for your adornment. We want you to come feeling that you are welcome—that you may look around as much as you wish and buy as little as you like—or not at all.

SMART COATS

Exclusive styling, different fabrics and a wide assortment enables one to choose a coat from our extensive stock with a source of pleasure attached to it, particularly if one delights in selecting a mode that reflects individual taste.

Many of the coats have novelty cuffs, pockets and fancy stitching, although many of the most beautiful garments rely on their graceful lines and exquisite fabrics to appeal. Hardly a day goes by that we do not have a shipment of new coats.

Spring Coats, $12.50 up to $49.50

THE SPRING SUITS

Keeping pace with every phase of fashion and adding touches of individuality that make for style distinction, these suits are also notable for many niceties of workmanship, smartly cut collars, well set shoulders and the right fitting sleeves emphasize expert tailoring. Materials are navy blue poret twill, and attractive sport suitings.

Spring Suits, $24.75 up to $49.75

NEW HOSIERY

In the new hosiery for Spring now on display may be seen many new colors. As much depends upon material and workmanship for long wearing qualities in stockings, we have chosen our brands from well known manufacturers who use only the best materials and employ modern methods to have their Hosiery employ the distinction of being as nearly perfect as human skill can make it.

You can have Gotham "Gold Stripe," Hosiery and Berkshire Hosiery Here.

NORWAY, Brown, Buck & Co., MAINE

CLEVER SPORT SKIRTS

Fitting in with every hour of the day come these new sport skirts and every woman will see the wisdom of including one or two in her wardrobe. New materials made up into wrappy and pleated models with novel pockets.

UNDERMUSLINS IN DESIRABLE MATERIALS

Just out of their boxes are these exquisitely styled envelope chemises, step-in chemises, princess slips, costume slips, step-in drawers, bloomers, camisoles and petticoats. Extremely lovely are they and distinguished by fine laces and embroideries. A splendid opportunity for women to purchase good supplies of pretty inexpensive under muslins.

THE NEW GLOVE STYLES

While our glove stocks have always been most satisfactory from the standpoint of smart style and serviceable wearing qualities, this season's showing goes even further in allowing pleasing individual choice. Styles are the popular gauntlets and tiny cuffs of imported fabrics and kid gloves are here in the new colors.

SILK CREPE DRESSES

The styles were never more attractive than is revealed in these new dresses. Unusually becoming models of fashionable crepes with clever new trimmings, touches in embroidery, ribbons and laces to emphasize their attractiveness, drapings are used extensively. Many new colors, as well as navy and brown.
